School Origins

Built upon the land that once lay beneath the old Vandergrift airport, the newly constructed high school stood as a triumph in architecture, design, and vision. To meet the demands of a growing district, the School Boards and School Authority of the Kiski Area School System, after much deliberation and planning, presented the new Kiski Area Senior High School to its citizenry on May 18, 1963. The seven constructed buildings collectively afforded its students the best opportunity to succeed among all local districts in academics, music, art, and sports. Certainly, all involved in the original design of the school kept the needs of the students paramount and thus set into motion a mind-set that appropriately drove future renovations.

A mere skeleton of its former self, Larson Construction Company erects the framework for the walkway and the administration building on August 15, 1961.

Note: To create the following time line, the 2007 Campus editorial staff spent two days in the high school library researching and analyzing each of the Kiski yearbooks since 1963 to gather all of the information that follows. While some books displayed obvious landmarks to include, others did not. Additionally, please realize that a discrepancy exists in the nature of high school sports years for the fall and winter sports as they sometimes lag a year behind in records. Still, enjoy and reminisce through a timed history of Cavaliers past.

Academic Priority

For over nine months each year, students faithfully endured Monday through Friday at beloved Kiski High. Although many enriched the experience by joining clubs and sports, the true reason to attend involved, of course, education. For the past 45 years, Kiski students have achieved greatness. The administration, secretaries, guidance counselors, and teachers worked together each day to prepare the students to progress further in education, or to tackle the work force right after graduation. Certainly, the cooperation between students and faculty ensured a continuing and long standing tradition of academic excellence.

Commitment to Music

While most schools have begun to severely cut music programs, the Kiski Area School District has continued to support and encourage all students to either play an instrument or sing loudly. With perhaps the finest music program in the state, both choral and instrumental ensembles have left audiences in awe of their talents. Beginning in elementary school, each student has the opportunity to experience and embrace music. As many studies report that participating in music activities directly correlates to finer grades, the Kiski district offers a diverse assortment of music ensembles, classes, and groups. From marching band to show choir, the power of music has affected everyone. It connected people and afforded each a forum for expression.

Under the direction of choral director Mr. John McClelland, members of Concert Choir perform for the annual Christmas Assembly. On Christmas night, Channel 4, WTAE, telecast a portion of the performance.

The Tunnel

The 307 foot tunnel closed in the late 1980's for several reasons. First, the ceiling kept leaking and patches failed to work. Secondly, administration felt that it became too difficult to patrol the students as they traveled through. Lastly, it presented a lighting problem that became too costly to fix.

The Walkway

Providing shelter in the storm and shade in the summer heat, the walkway that graced the campus front simply brought smiles to faces. Sadly the covered sidewalk fell victim to the recent renovations.

The Observatory

Constructed in 1975, the observatory closed in 1988. Lighting from the developed plazas above campus made it impossible to see the stars and other bodies at night. In its day, many clubs and organizations utilized the equipment in the observatory.

Inclement Weather

Twist of Fate

On Tuesday, the 3rd of June, 1980, tornadoes ravaged their way through the Kiski Valley. Leaving behind a devastating path of debris, the twisters caused damages that amounted to millions of dollars. On campus, the tornadoes only damaged the Arts Building. Workers had to replace the roof above the shops and also repair many floors and ceilings due to water damage.

A homeowner in Meadowbrook of Allegheny Township analyzes the damage from the series of tornadoes that ripped through the Kiski valley on Tuesday June 3, 1980, at approximately 12 noon.

Let It Snow

On March 12-13, 1993, a blizzard brought the Pittsburgh area to a standstill. Snowing at a rate of 2-3 inches per hour, the storm accumulated a shocking 25 inches of snow. In its two day period, one-third of the yearly snow amounts for 1993 had fallen.

Ivan the Terrible

On Friday, September 17, 2004, Hurricane Ivan rained down on an already sauntered western Pennsylvania. Dumping up to 9 inches of rain, the downpours triggered massive flooding and mud slides across the area which closed hundreds of roadways and bridges. Ivan's torment broke the just set rainfall records from the week before.

In mid September of 2004, Hurricane Ivan left his devastating trail of destruction from the deep south of the nation all the way to Leechburg, PA.

Sports Excellence

Over the years, students had many opportunities to succeed in sports at Kiski. From gymnastics to wrestling and from rifle team to swimming, the Cavalier athletes certainly made a splash. No matter which sport, the team members underwent vigorous training sessions and practices which involved running, weight lifting, and drilling. With attitudes of warriors, participants rallied toward countless victories and titles, both individually and collectively as teams. Enthusiasm, ardor, perseverance, and teamwork all contributed to excellence in Cavalier sports and these attributes continue to champion athletes today.

Recent Renovations

September 1, 2004 marked the first day that students entered the newly renovated high school. Fresh paint adorned the walls and a brand new gymnasium, two-story science wing, office, and library all greeted the students, ready for the school year to begin. Ground-breaking occurred in April of 2003 with a projected completion date of October of 2005. However, the P. J. Dick Company actually finished the construction in April of 2005, months ahead of schedule.

When Kiski first opened its doors in 1963, the construction of the entire school cost three million, six-hundred and thirty thousand dollars. The cost to the recent renovations surmounted to 32 million dollars.

Workers from the P.J. Dick Company make huge strides in building the courtyard between the lower cafeteria and the new high school office building. The area seen here replaced the old courtyard that designers planned for the original campus.
